TELEVISION talk show host, FELICIA MABUZA-SUTTLE, kneels in front of her Mercedes-Benz which now has a brand new personalised number plate – SUBTLE – at Sandown Motors in Sandton yesterday. It is Gauteng's first personalised number plate. "It has taken three long years to get this approved by the Department of Transport," said managing director of the registration company, Plates, Mr Barry Berman. Standard number plates restricted drivers to three numbers followed by three letters. Now they could allow their imaginations to "run wild" by choosing six letters, numbers or a combination.
